

ARKANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

Public Administration - Assistant Professor

Arkansas State University is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of excellence and diversity among its faculty and staff.

The Department of Political Science invites applicants and nominations for a tenure-track appointment at the assistant professor level beginning August 15, 2009. The successful candidate will teach classes in our NASPAA-accredited MPA Program and in the undergraduate political science program. A doctorate in public administration, political science, or a related field is preferred, but full consideration will be given to candidates who are ABD. Areas of specialization are open, but competency to teach in the MPA core curriculum is required. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications.

ASU is a comprehensive university with enrollment of 10,000 students at its campus in Jonesboro, a city of 60,000 located 70 miles NW of Memphis (www.astate.edu). The University and the Department share a commitment to the welfare of the people of the Mississippi Delta and the preservation of their heritage. The Department has 11 members and offers a well-rounded curriculum to its more than 100 undergraduate majors. The MPA Program is currently the largest graduate program in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences.

Applicants should send an electronic version of the following materials to the PA Search Committee via Committee Chair Cathy Reese (ccreese@astate.edu): letter of application; teaching evaluations; c.v.; and contact information for three or more references. A complete application will also require applicants to formally register on the ASU External Employment site, at <https://jobs.astate.edu/applicants/jsp/shared/frameset/Frameset.jsp?time=1223585394873>. Review of applications will begin on or about October 15, 2008 and continue until the position is filled.
