

The University of Illinois at Springfield Department of Public Administration invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position.

Qualifications for the position include an earned doctorate (at the time of appointment) in public administration, political science, or a related field, with strong teaching and research interests in one or more of the disciplines or sub-disciplines of public administration or public policy. Willingness to serve on DPA dissertation committees is important. Applicants should have an emerging record of excellence in teaching, scholarship, and professional service and an established research agenda. Salary is competitive, depending on qualifications. This position will require teaching a portion of coursework in our online program. Experience in online teaching is desirable.

Located in the state capital, the University of Illinois Springfield is one of three campuses of the University of Illinois. The UIS campus serves approximately 5,100 students in 20 graduate and 23 undergraduate programs. The academic curriculum of the campus emphasizes a strong liberal arts core, an array of professional programs, extensive opportunities in experiential education, and a broad engagement in public affairs issues of the day. The campus offers many small classes, substantial student-faculty interaction, and a rapidly evolving technology enhanced learning environment. Its diverse student body includes traditional, non-traditional, and international students. Twenty-five percent of majors are in 17 undergraduate and graduate online degree programs and the campus has received several national awards for its implementation of online learning. UIS faculty are committed teachers, active scholars, and professionals in service to society.

Screening of applications will begin October 15th and will continue until the position is filled.
